ARTIST STATEMENT

My practice challenges parameters surrounding painting and sculpture by utilising and fusing materials. Distorted, twisted, and restored artworks are born from destruction; a process-based exploration engaged with subverting notions of categorisation.

With no particular narrative, complex ideas are minimized and presented in a simplified manner, anticipating the appearance of raw material and questioning laws of tradition.

Asking where the line between the two approaches to painting and sculpture exists.

Presentation plays a significant role, merging and combining media, thus forming new forms of art somewhere in-between.

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

In the last three years, I have dedicated myself to Studying Fine Art. Having completed two years at Greenlane College in Middlesbrough, and currently on my Third year of university, in Hartlepool, both of which are identified as The Northern School of Art. Currently, I am participating in a collective, third year organization, in aims to showcase final artworks. I am responsible for fundraising, organising events with the intent to raise money leading up to the degree show. Alongside groundwork of building the Gallery spaces.
